Hi

Firstly, I want to apologize to Sector3 Studios for discovering this game so late and for not owning ALL content....

FFB and driving model 10V10 and fov...I never get that feeling from any other game, it's ideal hmm symbiosis :P

It's that good, i don't kiss "butts" but from today I "used to play AC and RF2"

Man it's just crazy good...gonna buy me some trucks and some gt3 & dtm cars old and new and maybe some Nurburgring, and Spa :D

Priceing ? DONT buy what you will not use and you will pay less money basic content is great, hill climb BMW is great :D and not so deadly as I suspected, It can be done !

I've paid for Bathurst(wich is the best track in the world, no doubt about it) and dtm 92, gonna buy come gt3 cars, nurb legends, maybe 3-4 tracks, in all I think I'll spend no more then 30 euro on everything I want.

Wishes : LE Mans, Daytona, Sebring, nothing more is needed :P

Sector3 Studios, RaceRoom Entertainment AG keep doing what your doing and don't stop for nothin :D maybe pitstop`s from time to time... for fuel that is :D. Good sounds, everything else (FFB, physics, AI, graphics etc) is just so meh! just not worth sinking your money into it. An excellent game that reminds me on a daily basis how utterly crap I am at racing.. It's up there with Project Cars 2 when it comes to looks.

Raceroom looks and feels great but the best thing about this are the sounds.

It's like sitting in the real car. Turn up your sound when you play this.. This sim is a mixed bag - depends on how much money you have spent on it and what you want to get out of the game.

I don't recommend spending a lot at first. Only try out what classes and specific cars you like the most before buying.

PROS:

- * Best FFB in all games I tried, right out of the box. Perfect.
- * This as well may be a con, but cars drive a lot easier than AC. Maybe I'm too used to Assetto Corsa where if you spin with GT3 the tyres turn into a block of cheese with zero lateral grip. I would say physics feel closer to rF2.
- * Nicer visuals than AC and rF2.
- * Good sound.

CONS:

- * AI is unusable. Just google RaceRoom AI and you will see. Rams into me in every corner, as if I was not there. I go spinning off, they go on like a tank.
- * No option to set my starting position like in AC. I would like to skip qualifying and just start from last. EDIT: Developer responded that there is that option, and indeed it was hidden on the bottom of a scrolling menu. I don't understand why the whole menu is not visible, there is enough space. I guess consoles are to blame here - everything needs to be large.
- * Could use a bit more options and hud elements, like fov in degrees, delta time, proximity arrows, tyre temps etc.

If you are more into hotlapping and practice, then I recommend this.

Terrible customer service, I payed 26 USD for a game I can't play.

I have a spotty internet connection, so I asked for a refund on the nurburging legends pack because I found out after having already bought a pack in-game (can't get a refund on this either 48 hours limit on in-game purchases, whatever fine) that you can't play offline or with an intermittent signal.

Their excuse for not refunding me is my total game time played is 30 hours, but my game time on the dlc is less then two hours of play. In the policy statement it says: if not played on for more then two hours or 14 days hasn't past the purchase date then you may refund. I made two requests this week and both had a "copy and paste" request denied reply...

steam has become a money hole, from which you receive only crappy games and no pleasure.

. One of the best racing games out there its great.
